Dear Ms. Enders:

On October 6, 2017, you filed a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request seeking the following:

A list of all flights taken by Interior Secretary Ryan Zinke since being sworn in on March 1, 2017, including the cost of each flight.

On November 6, 2017, we acknowledged your request and advised you of your fee status under the FOIA.

Today, we are writing to provide a final response to your request on behalf of the Office of the Secretary. We are writing to respond to your request on behalf of the Office of the Secretary. Records responsive to your request are available here: <https://www.doi.gov/foia/os/os-foia-library-travel-records>.

If you wish to pursue your request further than what is posted, please contact us with more information about the records you seek. According to our regulations, if we do not receive your written response within 20 working days from the date of this letter, we will assume that you are no longer interested in pursuing your request, we will not be able to comply with your request, and will close our files on it (see 43 C.F.R. § 2.49(c)).

Because your entitlements as an “other-use requester” (see 43 C.F.R. § 2.39) were sufficient to cover all applicable FOIA charges, there is no billable fee for the processing of this request.

This completes our response to your request.

For your information, Congress excluded three discrete categories of law enforcement and national security records from the requirements of the FOIA. See 5 U.S.C. § 552(c). This response is limited to records that are subject to the requirements of the FOIA. This is a standard notification that is given to all our requesters and should not be taken as an indication that excluded records do, or do not, exist.

The 2007 FOIA amendments, the Office of Government Information Services (OGIS) was created to offer mediation services to resolve disputes between FOIA requesters and Federal agencies as a non-exclusive alternative to litigation. Using OGIS services does not affect your right to pursue litigation. You may contact OGIS in any of the following ways:
